Scope and content note

The Missouri Province Religious Pamphlet collection contains short, religious tracts on a variety of issues and topics including individual Jesuits and Jesuit saints, spirituality, morality, religious education, marriage and sexuality, politics, communism, vocations, and the mass. These pamphlets, produced between 1851 and 1997, were collected members of the Missouri Province and other Province affiliates and donated to the Jesuit Archives. Most of the pamphlets in this collection were produced by The Queen's Work and Institute for Social Order publishing houses. Other presses represented in this collection include The America Press, The Jesuit Mission Press, The Catholic Truth Society, and presses from Jesuit universities across the United States. Some pamphlets in this collection have been annotated or inscribed.

Arrangement note

All items in this collection are arranged alphabetically by author.
