Scope and Contents

This collection is comprised of correspondence, house diaries (some in Spanish and Latin), financial records, manuscripts, marriage dispensations, church records, and community publications/materials. The bulk of the material dates between the 1880s and the 1960s.

Historical Note

The Jesuits were recruited to New Mexico by Bishop Jean Baptist Lamy of Santa Fe who requested Spanish speaking Jesuits from the Naples province. In 1867, Bishop Lamy, a group of five Jesuits (Fr. Livio Vigilante, Fr. Donato M. Gasparri, Fr. Raphael Bianchi, Bro. Prisco Caso, and Bro. Raphael Vezza)¹, and fellow religious men and women journeyed by wagon from Fort Leavenworth to Santa Fe over the course of two months. Despite sickness, harsh conditions, and Native American communities defending their homes along the journey, the group arrived in Santa Fe and one year later took over the San Felipe Church in Albuquerque.² The diary kept by Fr. Vigilante, detailing the journey on the Santa Fe Trail, is held in the collection; a partial translation and transcription is found in BIN NOR 3.0035, folder 2 and the original is found in BIN NOR 3.0016, folder 1.

In 1883, the Immaculate Conception Church was completed in 'New' Albuquerque, an area which expanded around the railway. Immaculate Conception was supported by St. Mary's School which grew to include a high school, administered by the Sisters of Charity beginning in 1891.³ San Felipe was transferred to the Archdiocese of Santa Fe in 1965, while Immaculate Conception remains a Jesuit parish.
